Seminars & Lectures – Digital Medicine PhD Programme

Type: SE

ECTS: 0.5 (= 12 hours of attendance in total)

Character: self-selected, but publicly announced seminars, lectures and lecture series at the Medical University of Innsbruck

Aim: Exposure to different scientific topics with the goal to foster interdisciplinary approaches to science.

Description: PhD students attend publicly announced seminars, lectures or lecture series of their choice (e.g. AISCM lectures, Gender Medicine lecture series, publicly advertised guest lectures). Each attendance is recorded with its actual duration; 0.5 ECTS are credited once a total of at least 12 hours is reached. The number of events is therefore variable (e.g. 8×1.5 h or 6×2 h).

Eligibility: Only events that meet both criteria can be credited:

1. Publicly announced: the event is advertised to the whole university or the public (e.g. MUI event calendar, newsletter, lecture series programme).
2. Not organised by your own institute: the event is hosted by an institute, department or unit other than the one you are affiliated with.

Not eligible: internal seminars, journal clubs, lab or group meetings, and invited talks that are only announced within an institute or research group – including those of other institutes.
